Respondents shall provide a written explanation identifying the specific information claimed to be protected and the legal basis for requested protection from public disclosure. A designation of information as confidential or proprietary by a Respondent does not, by itself, establish that the information is exempt from disclosure or prevent SBC from disclosing the information as required by law. The disclosure of proposals and other materials will be determined in accordance with applicable law. SBC makes no representation or guarantee that information identified by a Respondent as confidential or proprietary will be withheld from disclosure. If SBC receives a request for a proposal or other materials, SBC may, but is not obligated to, notify the affected Respondent or provide the Respondent with an opportunity to assert any claimed exemption or other legal protection, to the extent permitted by applicable law.
